

A NEW PRINT.

This Day is published,

PATENT EXERCISE;

O R,

LES CAPRICES DE LA GOUTE, BALLET ARTHRITIQUE:

BEING A COMPANION TO

JASON & MEDEE, BALLET TRAGIQUE.

To be had at Mr. SANDEY's in St. George's Row, Oxford Turnpike; and of G. KEARSLEY, at No. 46, in Fleet-street.

GENERAL HEADS of the never-failing and salutary Effects daily produced by the PATENT HEALTH RESTORING EXERCISE.

DISCOVERY THE FIRST.

AN infallible method to cure the most inveterate gout without medicines, or any other application whatever.—

The patient is much better, both in body and mind, after the cure, than if he never had been afflicted.

From motives of disinterested humanity, and a consideration of the present scarcity of money, the doctor will put this discovery in practice so soon as he shall have received the trifling subscription of TWENTY THOUSAND POUNDS.

DISCOVERY THE SECOND.

This is most infallible, being a method of curing the above disorder superlatively more infallible than the before-mentioned infallible method.

This cure is not performed by electricity, roasting, stewing, fuming, or sweating, but by mere Patent Muscular Exercise only, which, with the most pleasing effect on the sensations of persons unable to move, completely dislodges, in an hour, all fixed rheumatic, or any other immovable complaints.—

Ladies or gentlemen troubled with stiff knees, or gummy ankles, may have them lu-bricated on the shortest notice, so as to enable them to dance cotillions in public, with the activity of a Slingsby, or the grace of a Vestris.

N. B. Those who wish to be qualified to perform the Ballance a L' Oye, or Goose's Poize, are expected to make an extra compensation.

Among many surprising effects of this discovery, the cure of corpulency, want of appetite, and bad digestion, are not the least.—These evils it rectifies to any wished degree, so as to enable the patient to eat and digest any required quantity of venison, turbot, or turtle; and if any increase of size should take place by indulging in these dainties, the periphery of the belly may be reduced to any assigned diameter, by the doctor's patent infallible method.—

N. B. For the article of eating and digestion, the doctor will agree by the pound, and for that of reduction by the stone, and with merchants and gentlemen in trade, if required, by the hundred.—

He will also treat for a single Lord Mayor's day, sheriffs, or assize dinner, or any other public or annual feast.

Idle aged gentlemen disposed to enter into the marriage state, whose legs are any ways wasted, may in a few days have their calves reinstated in their original plumpness.—

Patients may agree for a perfect cure, or be cured by the week, by the month, year, or for life.—

13. the Doctor having an exclusive patent, a cure of the above disorder, by any other means or persons will be illegal.

*A parody of the handbill on the opposite page by F. Green Esq.
The N. B. is in Capt. Green's handwriting.*